FROM AUTOS TO RAILCARS

The 1950s and 1960s saw the demise of steam power and the rise of diesel traction on Britain's railways. On lightly used West Country branch lines, the traditional GWR steam push and pull 'auto train' – where the locomotive could be driven from a driving compartment in the carriage – was replaced by new era British Railways diesel railcars.

During half term week, 20th – 27th February 2011 and at weekends throughout March, we're running steam 'auto trains' and a railcar on the following dates:

- Sunday 20th – Sunday 27th February, Sunday 6th, 13th and 20th March.

Steam, using 1928-built GWR locomotive 5526 and two auto trailers in genuine 1950s colours

- Saturday 5th, 12th, 19th March, Monday 28th March and Friday 1st April.

Using 1958-built BR 'Bubblecar' diesel railcar W55000 in authentic BR green livery

Discounted fares on these days!

Remember that with no leaves on the trees, February and March are great times to see our scenic line!
